“The pool is a central part of our place. We’ve updated it to be more natural and switched to a new saltwater/ozone system. Now that we’re empty nesters, we have our grandkids over, and it’s being enjoyed by another generation. It’s a magnet: It’s fun to see the grandkids have a great time like their moms did when they were young.”
—Iowa City Pool Owner

Pool Tech is a full-service company.
Teamwork makes us strong! Pool Tech Midwest has been helping people enjoy water for more than 42 years. Bringing professionals and homeowners together at the start of a project ensures quality and creates a more cost-effective outcome.

Pool Tech supplies the pool designer, engineering and construction professionals. We can also collaborate with architects, landscape designers, decorative concrete experts, kitchen designers, and more.

We do the coordination for you!

Uniquely fitting your desires, property, and budget, a custom pool is your best value.

We put you at the center of the team, and listen carefully to bring you the most enjoyment!

“You feel like you’re at a resort. When you turn the waterfall on, the sound of the water separates you even more from the real world. The backyard design is this amazing space that’s a true escape for us. It creates such a wonderful, happy environment.”
—Cedar Rapids Pool Owner

“Each backyard environment is unique because everyone wants to entertain differently. An architect looks at the relationship of the components to one another and to the orientation of existing buildings, vegetation and the sun; creating a better, more functional design.”
—Greg Sundberg, Architect
